CrossWay Christian Church recognizes the privacy concerns of users of our websites on the Internet and the importance of protecting the privacy of personally identifiable information collected from them. As a general policy, no personally identifiable information, such as a visitor's name, address, email address, telephone number, or credit card information is automatically collected on our websites. Such information is collected only when it is knowingly and voluntarily submitted. CrossWay uses such information only for the purpose for which it was submitted, unless we disclose other uses in this policy or at the time of collection.

We maintain reasonable and appropriate safeguards to ensure the security, integrity, and privacy of such information in our possession. CrossWay does not sell personally identifiable information to third parties. CrossWay will not disclose, sell, trade, or rent personal information it collects to outside parties. We reserve the right to monitor visitor traffic patterns and website usage to help us develop the design and layout of our websites to enhance your online experience.

Privacy of Children

CrossWay Christian Church encourages parents and guardians to spend time with their children online. No information should be submitted to or posted on CrossWay's web site by users 13 years old and younger without the consent of their parent or guardian. Unless otherwise disclosed during collection, CrossWay will not provide any personally identifying information, regardless of its source, to any third party for any purpose whatsoever for our users 13 years and younger. If any services or features on the site require registration, a user 13 years old and younger will be required to provide the email of the parent or guardian which will allow us to notify that person that the child has registered for a service or feature. Identifying a user as 13 or under is not easy and CrossWay will not be held responsible for anyone misrepresenting as over 13 when in fact they are not.
